

Database

The database is SQL which is placed on the server

Server

HTML

HTML is used to retrieve data from the database, such as when the user logs in he/she enters data which is then sent to validate with the database

If response is OK, for example login is correct, then the user is redirected to the appropriate page by retrieving data from the database then...

CSS/HTML

Using CSS to customize the website's HTML so the user views the website in a stylish/ professional manner

Web Browsers

User access website via internet browsers, e.g. chrome, IE, firefox which use HTML

User Device

User

User has a computer in which is capable of accessing internet